- In late November 1951 the Kwangsi Hillitary District, in order to meet existing requirements, reorganized and amalgmented several military sub-districts under its command as follows:
 - The Hanning Hilitary Sub-District was abolished, and its area of jurisdiction transferred to the Pinyang Military Sub-District.
 - The Lungchou Military Sub-District was abolished and reorganized as the Ch'ung-Tsol Military Sub-District.
 - The Chin-Lien2 Military Sub-District was officially organized and given the responsibility of defending the coastal areas of southern Kwangsi.
- 2. As a result of this reorganization the Kwangsi Military District comprised nine military sub-districts with headcuarters at Kueilin (110-10, 25-20), Liuchcu (109-16, 24-18), Pinyang (108-44, 23-18), Junghsien (110-34, 22-54), Pinglo (110-28, 24-36), Ishan (108-38, 24-33), Wuming (108-15, 23-12), Paise (106-34, 23-55) and in the Chiung-Tso area.

25X1A Comment. See for similar information on the Chinese Communist order of battle in Kwangsi as of late November 1951.

25X1A

Comment. This is a contraction of the names of two hsien cities: Ch ungshan (107-33, 22-27) and Tsohsien (107-31, 22-38).

25X1A 25X1A

Comment. A contraction of the inchou (108-37, 21-58) and Lienchou (109-10, 21-38). According to the Kwangsi Military District assumed defense responsibility for this Sub-District in mid-January 1951. Previously the Kwangsi Military District assumed it had been under the jurisdiction of the Kwangtung Military District.

Comment. Source does not explain thy the Chin-Lien area and its rs are not included in this group. However, reported that 25X1A 25X1A headquarters are not included in this group. However, reported that in mid-July 1951 the Kwangsi Ellitary District established a Southern Kwangsi Coastal Command to strengthen coastal defenses in the Ch'inchou-Hop'u area and that this command had authority and position roughly equivalent to that of a military sub-district. In the present report what is termed the Chain-Lien Military Sub-District may refer to this command.
